COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course is open to dentists, hygienists and assistants.

Complete Dentures and Implants
A personalized denture procedure designed to predictably treat the difficult or the extremely precise denture patient will be discussed. This includes anterior tooth positioning, phonetically correct vertical dimension of occlusion and patient generated functional impressions. Relines and how to achieve predictable results will be outlined in detail. The training denture and its role in the predictable implant retained lower denture will be covered. How to achieve a custom tinted denture base that defies detection as a denture will be demonstrated by way of digital presentation.

Removable Partial Dentures
Removable partial dentures will be discussed. Also, Dr. Turbyfill will talk about the way to prepare for success by planning stability, support and retention, in that order, so as to make partial denture design easy.

The free end saddles of partials must be fitted to the ridges as a separate procedure. The use of bars in partial design will be discussed.

The general population is keeping more of their natural teeth; the complete upper denture that occludes with lower natural teeth and the problems associated with the combination cases will be detailed.
SPEAKER – WALTER F. "JACK" TURBYFILL, D.M.D.

Since 1984 Dr. Turbyfill has been giving seminars and lecturing at dental schools (University of Indiana, University of Alabama, Medical College of Georgia School of Dentistry, Medical College of Virginia School of Dentistry, Medical University of South Carolina School of Dentistry, Case Western Reserve University, Tufts University), study clubs, associational meetings (Chicago Dental Society, Dallas Midwinter Meeting, Hinman Dental Meeting, Houston Dental Meeting, Greater New York Dental Meeting, Illinois State Dental Meeting, Louisana Dental Meeting, South Carolina Dental Meeting, Michigan AGD, New Jersey AGD, Maryland AGD, Alabama AGD), and private dental groups (Dawson Teaching Facility, Lab One, Precision Dental Lab, Nucraft Dental Lab, Dental Arts Laboratory, Southeastern Dental Laboratory Association) in the United States, Canada, Italy, France and Switzerland.

Dr. Turbyfill graduated from the University of Louisville in 1959. He studied with Dr. Earl Pound for many years and this relationship is responsible for his keen interest in prosthodontics. Dr. Turbyfill maintains a private practice in West Columbia, South Carolina. He teaches dentists the principle of complete dentures and partials in demonstration and lecture seminars.
